
Support and Services

You say to yourself that Hradec Králové is a small town and our Faculty of Medicine does not have thousands of students? But it has its advantages. You can get everywhere in the city on foot, by bike or in a few minutes by public transport. You can find accommodation in dormitories or private rentals without much trouble. And you'll get help with your studies from senior colleagues or direct tutors, for whom you're not just one of many.
